

Hi Alex,

Things have been really well here in Hong Kong. I can't wait for you to come here to Hong Kong. You should have told me earlier. The 24th October is better since my holiday starts on that day. To shop for souvenirs, we can go to the famous stores in Tsim Sha Tsui. Things sold there are cheaper than other stores close by. That's why they're so famous. As for clothing, we can go to H&M. The clothes there are fashionable and at a good price. I haven't been to the Symphony of Lights for a while, but I think it starts at 8 p.m. While we're in Tsim Sha Tsui, let's go to the Space Museum to watch a movie. After the movie, we can explore the Space Museum.

Ocean Park is a very famous theme park in Hong Kong. There is this one particular ride I would like you to go on - the Abyss. I went on it with my sister once. She screamed so much and was even crying at the end. If you don't like to go on a roller coaster, there are other mechanical rides that you can choose. The Rapids, in which six to eight people ride in a round buoyant rows to the end. Since you're here in October, Halloween Fest is something you can't miss. Staff in scary costumes will sneak up on you and scare the living day lights out of you. For meals, we can eat at a restaurant where they serve Indian and Western food. We can also eat the spicy fish balls. Once I finished a whole bottle of water and my mouth was still burning as the fish balls were so spicy.

I can't wait to meet you. Have a safe flight.

Chris
