As you asked our class to give you some advice on which country you should visit, I want to suggest that you visit a country with convincing reasons.

I think you should visit Nepal because I remember you said once that you wanted to travel to a country to experience the nature and try challenging activities. Nepal is nothing but surrounded by the beauty of hills, mountains, spectacular scenes of endless beauty.

Firstly, if you choose to visit Nepal, you can travel to famous attractions within two weeks. Some of the places you must-visit are the most popular places such as Lakeside of Pokhara. It is widely famous for its breathtaking scenery. Likewise, Lumbini should be on the list as well as it is the birthplace of Gautam Buddha. The other place I would like to suggest is the Chitwan National Country Park. I have been there once and it was one of the most memorable experiences of my travel in my country. It's a national country Park where you can see the wildlife and its beauty. You can sit on the top of an elephant and explore the wildlife of the area. You'll be fascinated by the love and the bond that the people, caretakers and the wild animals show there. It's the best place I've ever been to.

Secondly, you can choose to stay in Kathmandu, the heart of the country and explore the ancient temples there. However, you may find it crowded and dusty. Another location is an eastern town Dharan, which has cheaper accommodation with great services. Along with the famous attractions, you can also try all the famous dishes with its unique taste such as "Gundruk", "Kima", and many other old tasty dishes in Nepal.

Lastly, the people in Nepal are themselves amazing, full of kindness and purity. I hope you will take my advice seriously, and experience an amazing and memorable trip to Nepal. I can't wait to hear about your experience of your next trip.
